

UnitedHealthcare Core

Easy access, no referrals required.

UnitedHealthcare Core is an open-access plan that allows members to seek care from any provider or facility within the national Core network.

A open access product with a customized network designed to offer more affordable health care options

Core plans give members the freedom to choose from any health care professional in the UnitedHealthcare Core network, including specialists, without a referral or choosing a primary care physician (PCP).

Since Core is an open-access product, members can seek care from any provider, but they may pay more out-of-pocket costs when they do not seek care from network providers or facilities.

UnitedHealthcare Core: A flexible, high value option for your employees

Core has similar plan designs and shares many features with Choice Plus, but uses a smaller, customized network designed to offer more affordable plan options. These flexible plans provide simple-to-use coverage designs and integrated specialty services for employees. In addition, they will have access to a national network of providers; tools and information on our member website, myuhc.com[®]; and quality outreach, advocacy and wellness programs.
