

UnitedHealthcare[®] dental members get a new website

This spring employees with a UnitedHealthcare dental plan will have a new dental member website—myuhc.com[®].

If you visit myuhcdental.com, you will be redirected to myuhc.com. You will need to register for myuhc.com. To register you will need information from your dental plan ID card, or a Social Security number and date of birth.

You'll find lots of improvements at myuhc.com:

- View and print your dental ID card
- View your dental Explanation of Benefits (EOB)¹ documents
- Search more easily for dentists in the plan's network.² Seeing a dentist in the network can save you money

Try the Dental Cost Calculator³ at myuhc.com. Learn what your plan will pay for a given procedure and what you will have to pay. You can compare costs by dentist to find the care that fits your needs.

And you will now be able to view much of the site in Spanish, if you like, and on a smartphone.

Your dental member website is a great resource for information about your plan and your oral health.

¹An EOB shows how your claim was processed. It tells you what your plan paid for and what you will have to pay.

²Not all plans have networks.

³The Dental Cost Calculator is not available for Select DHMO or Direct Compensation plans.
